

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) is a vital source of income for over 9.8 million Americans. Many of these recipients are disabled workers, but others include workers' disabled surviving spouses or disabled adult children. Many people in New York's Capital Region do not realize they may qualify for SSDI benefits, which are administered by the Social Security Administration (SSA). What We Can Do for You

For over two decades, our Social Security law attorneys have been helping disabled individuals obtain or retain the SSDI benefits to which they are entitled. From applying for benefits to appealing SSA decisions denying, reducing, or terminating them, Tully Rinckey PLLC in Albany, N.Y. will aggressively protect your rights to help you obtain the benefits you deserve. We have experience appealing SSDI cases before SSA administrative bodies and federal courts.

Tully Rinckey PLLC in Albany, N.Y. will provide anyone with an SSDI matter with a free initial consultation, during which an experienced Social Security law attorney will review your case and inform you of your rights. You can ask the lawyer questions – at no cost – and he will help you determine the best strategy for your SSDI matter. We know how important SSDI benefits are, and we will be relentless in our representation of you. No matter what stage of the application or appeals process we begin representing you, you will not be billed until after you win your claim. The federal government regulates our fees, and you will get paid before we do. So don't let financial concerns prevent you from calling Tully Rinckey PLLC in Albany, N.Y. to get an experienced Social Security law attorney on your side. The SSA requires SSDI beneficiaries to suffer from a "disability," which prevents the individual from "engag[ing] in any substantial gainful activity (SGA) because of a medically-determinable physical or mental impairment(s)." Impairments need to be life-threatening or must have lasted or be expected to last for at least a continuous 12-month period. About one out of three SSDI beneficiaries suffer from a musculoskeletal system or connective tissue impairment. Other impairments common to SSDI beneficiaries include cardiovascular system impairments, mental disorders, neoplasm impairments, and sense organ impairments. Call Tully Rinckey PLLC in Albany, N.Y. if you are not able to work due to an impairment, such as an affective disorder, lupus, diabetes, a cervical or lumbar spine back injury, cardiovascular disease, arthritis, cancer, MS, fibromyalgia, or other chronic pain conditions. Tully Rinckey PLLC's Social Security law attorneys in Albany, N.Y. can represent claimants throughout New York's Capital Region, including Albany, Colonie, Guilderland, Troy, Rensselaer, East Greenbush, Saratoga Springs, Malta, Clifton Park, Schenectady, and Rotterdam. Call today to schedule a free consultation with one of our Social Security law attorneys at 518-218-7100 or e-mail info@1888law4life.com

If you have an urgent legal matter after normal business hours, call 518-727-3593 to speak to an attorney 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The firm is responsive to the needs of current and prospective clients. We will respond to phone calls within normal business hours and e-mails within the next business day.