

Underage Offenders

The criminal defense attorneys at Tully Rinckey PLLC are experienced in handling underage offenders in DWI cases. We serve the Capital District area including Albany, Saratoga, Schenectady, and Troy. New York State maintains a strict Zero Tolerance Law against underage alcohol and/or drug-related offenses. This means those under the age of 21 facing alcohol and/or drug-related charges can be subjected to harsh consequences. An underage driver can face legal consequences by having a BAC of .02 to .07. A violation of the Zero Tolerance Law can result in license suspension for up to 6 months, a $125 civil penalty, and $100 suspension termination fee.

Underage offenders that are charged with an alcohol and/or drug related offense under §1192 of the Vehicle and Traffic Law will be subject to a one-year license revocation.

Repeat underage offenders will be subject to either a one-year license revocation, or a license revocation until they reach the age of 21, whichever is longer.

An underage driver who refuses a chemical test during the five years after an alcohol and/or drug-related offense will have their license revoked for at least one year or until the age of 21, whichever is longer, and must also pay a $750 civil penalty in order to apply for a new license.

Charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and or drugs while undercharge are taken seriously in New York State.
