

Domestic Violence

Domestic violence, also known as domestic abuse is a broad category that includes different types of crimes committed against people who live together, or are related by marriage, or house a child together, or who are or were involved in an intimate relationship. The criminal defense attorneys at Tully Rinckey PLLC are experienced in handling domestic violence charges. We serve the Capital District area including Albany, Saratoga, Schenectady, and Troy. Domestic violence can include spousal abuse, child abuse

, or intimate partner violence. Domestic violence can encompass many different acts, including, physical abuse, threats, verbal abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, financial abuse, public humiliation, kidnapping, and stalking. Courts have become increasingly aware of patterns and trends in these types of behavior, and increasingly are treating the offenses with more weight. Domestic violence cases can be extremely complicated, because of the sometimes low burden of evidence required to file charges. In addition, charges are sometimes found to be completely frivolous, or filed out of spite. A conviction for domestic violence can result in severe consequences, which may include: Prison time

Probation or parole

Fines

Loss of child custody or visitation rights

Mandatory counseling

Mandatory community service

After a person has been charged with a domestic violence crime, the smartest thing to do is consult with an experienced criminal defense attorney. An attorney will guarantee that their rights are protected. A knowledgeable criminal defense attorney can evaluate the case and advise on the best course of action. In many cases, the charges can be reduced or even dismissed. At Tully Rinckey, we have defended numerous domestic violence cases. The best defense is an experienced legal team, and we have the experience that counts.
