

DWI

New York's drunk driving laws are among the strictest in the nation. A driving while intoxicated conviction could upend your life by sentencing you to jail, prison, or probation. If convicted of DWI, you may lose your driver's license. You may face heavy fines and surcharges, in addition to higher automobile insurance rates. You may even have to blow into an interlock ignition device (IID) to start your car. Enrollment in a Drunk Driving Program and attendance at a Victim Impact Panel are other potential consequences. What We Can Do for You initial consultation with a Buffalo, N.Y. DWI lawyer. Tully Rinckey PLLC's lawyers have years of experience helping Western New Yorkers fight DWI charges. Our strategy for helping you may include: Providing advice and opinions before and after arraignment

Exploring whether the police had a valid, legal reason to pull you over

Determining if a breathalyzer test was properly performed and performed in a timely fashion
Ensuring law enforcement officers properly conducted the field sobriety test in accordance to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's standardized methods Emphasizing in court the extreme hardships a license suspension would impose on a driver
Disputing the validity of a chemical test at a Pringle Hearing Challenging unlawful searches and seizures and evidence gathered through such illegal means
Attempting to secure a more lenient sentence by raising mitigating factors

DWI Involving Underage Drivers & Commercial Drivers

Tully Rinckey PLLC's DWI attorneys in Buffalo, N.Y. are experienced in representing underage and commercial drivers accused of driving drunk. If you are under 21 years old and have been charged with DWI, the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles will likely handle your case, as opposed to a criminal court. Nevertheless, drivers below the drinking age could still lose their license and be hit with heavy fines in this administrative process, and it is crucial they are represented by an experienced DWI lawyer. For drivers with a commercial driver's license (CDL), the stakes are especially high. Not only will they face jail time and heavy fines, they stand to lose their livelihood. They could be deemed ineligible for a CDL or have their license permanently revoked if they have prior DWI convictions.
