

Wills

A will is a legal mechanism that allows you to determine how your estate will be settled after you die. It can outline how certain taxes or debts should be paid and who should receive what remains of your estate. If you do not have a will at the time of your death, state law will dictate a plan for the settlement of your estate – and that plan may be very different from what you would prefer. How We Can Help

Whether you have a large or small estate, it is optimal to have a will. Tully Rinckey PLLC's estate planning attorneys in Buffalo, N.Y. can prepare one for you. Call us today and schedule your free initial consultation with an experienced estate planning attorney. The person who creates a will is called a "testator." Our estate planning attorneys are very familiar with various tax, distribution, trust, and charitable giving strategies that testators can incorporate into their wills. More important, we can ensure your will satisfies state law, so the legal document can withstand legal challenges in court that could undermine your last wishes. Get on your side an attorney who can help you with: Ensuring compliance with New York's witness and other requirements;

Developing strategies for property distribution;

Appointing an executor;

Tax planning;

Appointing of trustees; and

Appointing your minor children's guardian(s).

Don't put your estate at risk by relying on a do-it-yourself will obtained over the Internet. Call Tully Rinckey PLLC in Buffalo today. Remember, your initial consultation is free
