

Bar Reinstatement

Reinstatement Proceedings

Whether you have been suspended or disbarred, reinstatement to the practice of law is usually not automatic. To be reinstated, disbarred and suspended lawyers will have to prove to the court that they are in compliance with the disciplinary decision and have the character and fitness to return to the practice of law. How We Can Help

The Professional Responsibility and Legal Ethics practice group at Tully Rinckey PLLC in Rochester, N.Y. can ensure that reinstatement applicants provide all of the information and documentation necessary to show compliance with a disciplinary order. For example, the applicants need to show they did not practice law while suspended or disbarred and that clients, opposing parties, and courts were notified of their suspension or disbarment. Further, the applicant will have to show issues underlying the disciplinary action have been addressed through the provision of restitution, the completion of a drug or alcohol treatment program, or other means.
