

Criminal Law

If you've been arrested, the government will go to great lengths to make you pay for whatever crime you were accused of committing. No matter what the charges against you are, it's a David vs Goliath situation. You need an experienced criminal defense attorney to make it a fairer fight to ensure you receive the best outcome possible. Don't risk heavy fines, a ruined reputation, or jail or prison time. Call us. Our criminal defense team has over 80 years of experience of practicing criminal law. We have criminal defense attorneys throughout upstate New York, and they have deep roots in the communities in which they practice law. For example, our Rochester partner, Peter J. Pullano, has been defending clients in the Rochester area since 1987.
