Our bankruptcy attorneys are experienced in all matters relating to debtor's rights, creditor's rights, negotiations, modifications, discharges, litigation, and taxation. Debtors should consult with our attorneys to determine what type of bankruptcy is best for them. Through bankruptcy, individuals will halt collection efforts against them, while seeking forgiveness of their debts or working out a reorganization/repayment plan. People who petition for Chapter 7

, Chapter 11

or Chapter 13

must disclose to the bankruptcy court all of their assets, liabilities and other financial information. They may be required to sell (liquidate) non-exempt assets to pay off debts. Otherwise, they may have to develop and adhere to a plan of reorganization to repay a portion of their debts. Tully Rinckey PLLC's bankruptcy lawyers can represent debtors and creditors throughout Central New York, including Syracuse, Cicero, North Syracuse, Manlius, Liverpool, East Syracuse, Cazenovia, Baldwinsville, and DeWitt.
