

Power of Attorney

Regardless of your age, circumstances may unfortunately arise causing a person to become incapacitated (e.g. a person may be seriously injured in a car accident or be afflicted with Alzheimer's disease or some other illness). Regardless of the cause of incapacitation, you may not be able to tend to your financial affairs, putting you at risk of defaulting on bills, losing your home to foreclosure and mismanaging your money. If you have not appointed a power of attorney and become incapacitated, it may be necessary to go to court to have a guardian appointed for you. A court proceeding to have a guardian appointed is more expensive and time consuming than having a power of attorney form prepared and executed. How We Can Help

Tully Rinckey PLLC's estate planning attorneys in Syracuse, NY

want to help you prepare for any contingency which may happen in your life. When difficult things happen, there may be some comfort, at least, in having the proper tools in place to take care of yourself and your family. The estate planning lawyers at Tully Rinckey PLLC in Syracuse, N.Y. can prepare a power of attorney form for you that will assist you in preparing for the contingencies of life. We recommend the type of power of attorney form which should be used in your particular situation. Some types of powers of attorney available under New York law include:

Limited Power of Attorney:
Authorizes your agent to perform a specific financial task.

General Power of Attorney:

Authorizes your agent to manage all of your financial affairs.

Non-Durable Power of Attorney:

A power of attorney that terminates when you are declared incapacitated.

Durable Power of Attorney:

A power of attorney that remains in effect despite your incapacitation.

Springing Power of Attorney:

A power of attorney that takes effect when a specific event happens, such as a doctor's declaration that you are incapacitated.

A power of attorney ends at the individual's death. Call a Tully Rinckey PLLC estate planning lawyer or elder law attorney in Syracuse, NY.
